

Processing of SWP Data for B Lyr

The SWP camera's sensitivity has linearly decreased over the last ten years by about one percent per year. Observations of the stars, T Sco (hd 149438) and L Lep (hd 34816) were used to find the coefficients to a straight line fit describing the camera's decrease in performance. All the SWP B Lyr data were corrected using this function.

J Silvis
Room 200
Hannan Hall
Catholic University of America
Washington DC 20064